WEALTH PRESERVATION PHILOSOPHY

Braver's wealth preservation investment philosophy focuses on risk control. We believe that avoiding major market declines is the single most important factor to long term investment success and risk control. We take a long term strategic view but believe clients can benefit from active, tactical adjustments to preserve capital especially when markets are trending downward. We have proprietary, quantitative investment programs that actively manage portfolios and utilize cash proactively to preserve wealth. This has mitigated downside movements while still capturing a large portion of the upside. Our Wealth Preservation strategies are appropriate for investors who cannot afford nor do not accept the short term risk associated with buy and hold investment strategies, yet still want or need growth in their portfolio. These programs have two primary objectives: Avoid significant market declines and produce reasonably positive investment returns. We provide comprehensive wealth management services to individuals and their families, small corporations, charitable organizations and retirement plans.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

Strategic Portfolio is a global tactical ETF strategy that remains fully invested throughout the year in a diversified mix of equity, bond, money market or alternative investments. Using our proprietary model that consists of 25 individual asset classes we construct an optimal portfolio with a view towards combining lower correlated asset classes. Allocations are dynamic and adjust according to market conditions. Our maximum exposure to any one asset class is 10%. Portfolios are rebalanced multiple times throughout the year. No more than 60% will be invested in equities. Our goal is to achieve a consistent return while significantly reducing volatility and draw down.
